OLD TIME "STAG."

Wheeling Lodge of Elks Made Merry at Their Social Session.

BRILLIANT ARRAY OF TALENT

Told of Things They Wot Not of and Otherwise, in Response to the Calls to Step Forward—About 200 Antlered Monarchs at the Arion Hall Beval—All Walks of Life Contributed to the Fun.

Wheeling lodge, No. 28, B. P. O. E., held an old time Elk "stag" last night at Arion hall. It was the first social session for several moons, and it had the ring of former days, which means that conviviality and merriment reigned supreme. About 200 members of the order attended. It began at 10 o'clock and continued until shortly after midnight.

The presiding genius was Thomas O'Brien, Jr., for many years secretary of the lodge. He made an ideal toastmaster, prefacing each introduction with humorous and apropos remarks, and he made some of the unfortunates totter on the precipice of embarrassment. The custom of firing offenders was carried out as of yore, and the program was rich from start to finish.

The banquet, always the piece de resistance, was first discussed, and over the cigars and the liquors, stories, jokes and songs permeated the atmosphere. Musical numbers were sandwiched in by the Opera House orchestra, and the Vesper Quartette, the latter composed of Gene Wells, second tenor; Charles Marlowe, first tenor; Harry Hazlett, second bass; Clarence Echols, first bass. They sang several songs in clever style, and Charles Marlowe's clog dance was appreciatively received.

The first Elk called on by Chairman O'Brien was S. O. Boyce, who spoke of Elk social sessions, past and present. In this, as in all cases, the subject was assigned by the chair, and the speaker drifted to and fro as he chose.

Richard Robertson had to explain the similarity or dissimilarity existing between an Elk session and a Grand Army bean bake, he being familiar with both.

Dr. Nesbitt gave a successful dissertation on an Elk session, and its benefits to the community.

Fred H. Lange and Harry Wheat explained how good it was to have been there.

From George W. Lutz and Dr. Hamilton came good stories, and Charley Henning was fined because he couldn't respond to the song.

About this time, James K. Hall, travel-stained but cheerful, was noticed entering the hall, and he had to tell why he was late. He recounted his journey of the day, which included thirty miles by river and ten a-muleback, while on his return from looking up the auditorial delegate.

Thomas J. Jenkins sang a touching ballad, going it alone; George House pictured the blessings to flow from the new railroad to the Pennsylvania coking coal fields; J. Howard Wells, urged to speak of "Natural Gas," spoke of everything else; John Waterhouse had to enlighten the throng on the appointment of Sam Boyce to the city solicitorship, and he said that Samuel was the best for the job in the Republican fold.

Very enthusiastic and edifying was the exchange of repartee by Chairman O'Brien and Harry McClure, politics and civic problems intermingling. Honors were even. Incidentally Mr. McClure delivered an eloquent sermonette.

In the wind up, Frank Carenbauer spoke in tremulous tones, John Waterhouse told a good pillow story on "Frittle" Colmar, that occurred during the trip to California of the Wheeling gunboat party, and Allan Barton Smith held up the end of the newspaper fraternity with a treatise on ornithology, which, aside from the valuable information it contained, was doubly enjoyable because of the speaker's characteristic humor. After Smith's effort the doxology was sung.

The committee in charge was composed of W. H. Cassell, chairman; Emil Leonhart, Louis E. Schrader, C. A. Aul and Frank Carenbauer.

POLITICS.

Mr. James K. Hall returned last night from a trip in the southern part of the state, where he made some giant strides in his candidacy for state auditor. He visited Fayette and Greenbrier counties. In two districts of Fayette county he secures twenty-two delegates, and in another district of the same county (which has forty-five votes in the state convention) Lafollette got one delegate. The other districts of the country had not been heard from. In Greenbrier Mr. Hall was assured of substantial support. The conventions he attended were largely attended and very enthusiastic; the party is united and strong and ready for the fray; confident of the victory in November.

"I see that some of my friends in Mason county," said Mr. Hall, "have sent out a telegram that Mason instructed her delegates for me. While I made many friends in Mason county and expect to receive support, yet Mason has a candidate for a place on the state ticket, in the person of Hon. George Poffenberger, for supreme judge, and naturally the delegation is for him first and foremost."

Colonel Morris Horkheimer's candidacy has met with such a hearty reception over the First congressional district, that his confidence that he will be one of the district's delegates to the national convention at Philadelphia, is pardonable. Mr. George A. Laughlin, who was mentioned in the same connection, has written a letter to the colonel, pledging his support and stating that he would not be a candidate for delegate.

The Republicans of Harrison county will present the name of Judge Charles W. Lynch, of Clarksburg, to the state convention at Charleston, for the nomination of judge of the court of appeals. The two vacancies on the supreme bench come from the First and Fourth districts, and in addition to the argument that this district is entitled to one of the nominations, it can be truthfully stated that Mr. Lynch is eminently fitted for the judgeship, both on account of his natural judicial mind, and his legal attainments acquired through years of practice and assiduous study. As a member of the court of last resort in the state, the Intelligencer believes Mr. Lynch would fit acceptably to the people and with honor to his party.

A CASE OF "TREMENS"

Can be Brought on by Coffee.

"It is a well-known fact that one can bring on delirium tremens just as surely by the excessive use of coffee as of whisky, and the coffee habit is just as much a condition of slavery as the whisky habit. To be sure, if one has constitution enough to stand the effects of either coffee or whisky and prefers to continue their use, that might be a question for them to decide." So says Mrs. Amy K. Glass, of Roofs, Ia., who continues: "My mother never drank coffee until in middle life. It produced an obstinate case of dysentery, which could not be checked with medicines until she gave up coffee. She is now sixty-five years old and welcomes the Postum Cereal Food Coffee for a warm drink at breakfast. It has made her well and rid her of her old ailment, and she is now the appearance of good red blood, which she now shows."

"I regard Postum as the greatest blessing to mankind. It is a curious condition to hear temperance lecturers talk to people about the liquor habit, when frequently they themselves are slaves to the coffee habit." Postum Cereal Food Coffee, when thoroughly boiled, yields a perfect breakfast beverage, beautiful in its rich golden brown color, with a ripe, crisp, toothsome flavor, while the ingredients are such that nervous systems are built up by the action of small molecules of phosphate of Potash, obtained from cereals, without which the system cannot make brain matter and the gray substance that fills the nerve centers all over the body. The discontinuance of coffee and the change to Postum Food Coffee therefore works at both ends, for the good of the user.

A small piece of butter the size of two peas, placed in the pot, will prevent Postum from boiling over.

TEN THOUSAND CIRCULARS

Distributed by the Ministers in Their Fight on Sunday Ball.

The ministerial association has had printed 10,000 circulars, giving a copy of their resolutions, passed last Monday, against Sunday base ball in Wheeling. The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, The mayor of the city of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, and also the sheriff of Belmont county, Ohio, have absolutely refused to allow the Interstate Base Ball League to play ball on Sunday within the limits of said city and county, these O'Neill in the American metropolis, were the two actors who once more blew the spirit of dramatic life into the buoyant body of D'Artagnan, the Gascon dare-devil.

Whereas, Last year (1899) nearly five hundred of the leading business and professional men of Wheeling signed a vigorous protest against the Interstate Base Ball League's attempt to introduce Sunday base ball within the limits of Ohio county; and

FOUR FIRES WEDNESDAY

Two at the Belmont Stables, and Two Others Later in the Day.

There were four fires yesterday. The first two were in the early morning hours, and were both at the same place, the Belmont mill's stable, the work of firebugs, an account of which was given in yesterday's Intelligencer. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock, a small blaze at the home of Mr. Driscoll, on Seventeenth street, was speedily extinguished by the fireman, and at 3:30 o'clock, they had another run to Thirty-eighth street, to the home of Alex. Marshall. It was also a small blaze, and the damage was nominal at both places. The Belmont fire will be investigated closely, and the company believes it has a clue to the incendiary.

LIQUOR LICENSES GRANTED

At Yesterday's Meeting of the Board of County Commissioners.

Yesterday afternoon the board of county commissioners met in monthly auditing session. Liquor licenses were granted, as follows:

Point Mills—W. M. Buchanan. Triadelphia—Joseph Green. Fulton—J. A. Marshall, Herman Kreutzler, Albert Stahnke, William Happy, F. L. McFadden, Philip Fleahmann and Milton Parker. The application from John Walters, of Leatherwood, for license, was ruled out of order by President McGregor, on account of the remonstrance of the Leatherwood council, which declined to grant a town license.

AMUSEMENTS.

The social and theatrical circles of this city are on the qui vive regarding the announcement that James O'Neill, with his band of brave Musketeers, will soon be in our midst. The production that will be seen here is, according to Liebler & Co., the managers of the enterprise, the most stupendous scenic spectacle ever put on the boards on any stage in the world. $50,000 has been expended on scenery, costumes and properties. A large corps of supernumeraries are regular members of the company, being carried along as an integral part of the organization, so no dependency need be placed on the chances of picking up the extra people in every town the company reaches. Even the musical features are far more prominent than is usually the case in a dramatic company. This music is composed by Raymond Ross, of London, and is said to be good enough to be classified as grand opera. The version of Dumas' stirring tale was written by Sydney Grundy. It was responsible for the Musketeer craze that swept London and New York last season. Beerbohm Trees in the English capital, and James O'Neill in the American metropolis, were the two actors who once more blew the spirit of dramatic life into the buoyant body of D'Artagnan, the Gascon dare-devil.

Black Patti's Troubadours.

Those who are fortunate enough to be able to attend the performance of Black Patti's Troubadours may confidently anticipate a genuine treat. The forty artists who comprise the company have been selected with rare judgment, and they offer superb support to Black Patti, who ranks among the great singers of the age. The performance they render includes comedy, burlesque, vaudeville and opera, presented with magnificent and costly costumes and appropriate scenery. All the popular "coon" songs and "buck" dances are introduced in the first part, and the great operatic olio, in which Black Patti and her glorious voice are important features, embrace selections from the various standard grand and comic operas. At the Opera House Wednesday evening, May 9.

Arnold Stock Company.

The Arnold Stock Company will be the next attraction at the Grand Opera House. The engagement will be for one week, commencing Monday, May 7, with daily dime matinees, beginning Tuesday afternoon. This is one of the largest and best popular priced attractions on the road, numbering twenty people. The play selected for the opening performance Monday night, is the successful comedy drama, "Guilty Without Crime," on which occasion ladies will be admitted free, if accompanied by a person with a paid thirty cent ticket, which must be purchased before 7 p. m. This is done to prevent the usual crush and confusion at the box office. Seven his specialties are introduced between acts, making it a continuous performance, and on account of the extreme length of the programme the curtain will rise at 8:15 sharp.
